No: 01 / 2014

Subject: Visitor Restrictions and Prohibitions

PREAMBLE

This Instruction is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 235B of the Crimes (Administration of Sentences) Act 1999. Commissioner's Instructions amount to lawful orders and any staff member who intentionally disobeys or disregards this Instruction, or is found to be negligent in the performance of their duties, may be liable to disciplinary action under the Public Sector Employment & Management Act 2002.

INSTRUCTION

A review of the systems for managing visitor restrictions and prohibitions has been conducted and a number of recommendations made to improve the governance of this area. These recommendations include:

- the removal of the term 'sanctions' when referring to any restriction or prohibition applied to a visitor. Legislation only provides for sanctions to be applied to inmates not visitors;
- inclusion of the requirement by General Managers to advise visitors of their intention to impose a restriction or request a prohibition and inviting the visitor to provide a response prior to any decision being made. This ensures procedural fairness;
- the application of a risk based approach to applying any restriction. This means that any imposed restriction or prohibition imposed must be the lowest one possible and equal to the level of risk; and
- the use of standardised letters to visitors.

The revised policy has incorporated these recommendations and Section 15 of the Operations Procedures Manual has been updated to reflect these changes. A number of new templates have been created and these are available as annexures to Section 15 and they are:

- Intention to restrict visitor;
- Non-contact visiting restriction (clause 95)
- Warning letter
- Application for clause 102 visitor restriction or prohibition

- Coversheet for a clause 102 visitor restriction or prohibition
- A guide to visitor restrictions and prohibitions
- Intention to impose statewide prohibition or restriction

Effective immediately, General Managers must ensure systems are put in place to implement these changes.
